THE HARNEY COUNTY BANK—The first bank in this county to encourage and invite the accounts of women.

Mrs. I. H. Holland was hostess last evening at a Five Hundred party tendered to a few of her neighbors and intimate friends.

My horse plant, known as Jim Cracker Jack, is blooming and I will have slips for sale after April 15—W. M. Stewart on Poison Creek.

Lee Caldwell has again opened the Windsor Bar to the public and invites his old time patrons and friends to call. Draft beer 5 cents.

Highest prices paid for hides and pelts. I have also made arrangements to dispose of all the old iron and rubber that can be brought to me.—G. W. Clevenger.

H. J. Hansen will move his Meat Market into his new building today. The window glass has not yet been received for the new shop, but in this mild climate it is not necessary.

The electric lights have again been put out of commission; this time high water has caused the shut down, having interfered with the power. It is hoped by the company to again resume the service in a short time.

Mrs. S. D. Hill is up from her homestead near Saddle Butte. The lady informed us she walked 15 miles of the distance Thursday and was not fatigued in the least—in fact would have walked the entire distance had not high water prevented.

Wallace Jordan and family of New Richmond, Wis., are late arrivals in this city. Mr. Jordan is here to make his home and is well pleased with this section. He is an old time friend of John McMullen coming direct from the latter's former home.

G. W. Young has torn out the back partition of his Meat Market, put down a new floor and otherwise improve it preparatory to enlarging his stock of groceries, produce etc. He will soon have a very neat place of business with more than twice the former room.

O. E. Thompson and wife were in the city last Monday, having come up to make application for amendment on their desert claims. They had found upon examination that their filings were on one tract while they were improving and reclaiming another part of the section.

Bert Porter was up from the Dog Mountain section a few days this week. He was kept here longer than he had expected on account of the big rain storms. Mr. Porter reports that Bill Blott has been on the sick list but is recovering since a friend arrived from Los Angeles and Bill doesn't have to eat his own cooking.

Dick Gibson was among the new names that graced the subscription list of this great religious weekly this week. He informs us he has made a sale of several head of his horses recently.

The old man Mulkey was brought down from his home in the mountains last Thursday in a very serious condition, having been sick for some time. Dr. Marsden had him taken to the hospital.

The man who feared little water this spring, will have to take a back seat these days for we have a river full and overflowing. Besides there has been something less than 100 inches of precipitation during the last week and that will help some.

The Times-Herald learns from a reliable source that several head of mules were disposed of at the Island Ranch this week at as high as $400 a span and that $600 was refused for a span of horses. This would seem to be an indication that horses and mules are about the most profitable livestock to handle at this time. These are top notch prices and will be an incentive to horsemen to breed a better class of stock.

Special Easter services will be held at the Presbyterian church on Easter Sunday at 11 o'clock March 31st. Music, appropriate to the occasion, will be a special feature of the service. The communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the same hour. All are most cordially invited to attend this service. The children will take the Sabbath school hour for their Easter exercises. A special program is being prepared for that service. The parents and friends of the children are invited to this service.

If you intend to build see Adam George. He will furnish you plans, specifications, doors, windows and hardware for about half what windows formerly cost. Address him at Lawen.
